

Kaalfontein: Sustainable Participation Management

March 2015

PROJECT DETAILS

Project Name : Kaalfontein: Sustainable Participation Management, 2015
 Client : Melana /Empiriq Development Solutions
 Project by : Akanya Development Solutions

PROJECT DESCRIPTION

The team set out to establish the consultative and management structures required to undertake the Kaalfontein Corner Shopping Centre. The major part of this project required the establishment of good communication channels between all role players and stakeholders (including community members and municipal officials) in order to ensure the progression of this project.

The project required Akanya to facilitate Community Participation Sessions, the formulation of a Project Communications Committee (PCC) to achieve the following outcomes:

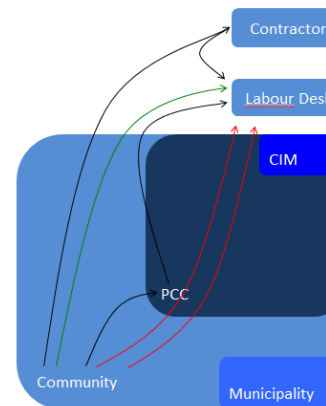

- Building a common understanding of issues and options
- Build relationships and partnerships with stakeholders
- A common understanding of development issues and profile of the affected community
- Audit of available assets and resources (consultations with community and other stakeholders)
- A set of guidelines and minimum requirements, to assist in fast-tracking the achievement of the retail development

PROJECT OUTCOME

The project is currently running, however a number of objectives have been met, such as:

- The formed/community elected PCC
- Appointment of a Community Liaison Officer (CLO)
